

THE CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL OF BALTIMORE

Founded in 1939 by the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia, The Catholic High School of Baltimore is a college preparatory high school for young women, located in northeast Baltimore. Catholic High students benefit from our rigorous curriculum rooted in the richness of our Catholic faith and in the tradition of Saints Francis and Clare of Assisi. As a community of lifelong learners, our students strive to achieve academic excellence, to perform Christian community service, and to model responsible leadership. In our 80th year, The Catholic High School of Baltimore boasts rigorous academic programs: STEM, McCafferty Visual and Performing Arts, Biomedical, Archangel, Honors, and College Preparatory. Catholic High...let your light shine!

JULIE ASBURY

Julie Asbury is an outstanding scholar who demonstrates brilliance by her ability to problem solve any obstacle placed before her. She is an accomplished trumpeter in our Visual and Performing Arts Program, a vital member of the Cross Country team in the fall, and an incredible discus thrower on the Outdoor Track team in the spring. Julie's impressive leadership as President of the National Honor Society, Brass Choir, and Vice President of the Band are only a few examples of her strong leadership at The Catholic High School. Her other memberships include Tri-M Honor Society, National English Honor Society, and Science National honor Society. Julie's discipline, unique sense of humor, and persistence are the motivating factors in her success.

“Attending The Catholic High School of Baltimore has allowed me to flourish in academics, athletics, and visual performing arts, all while in the presence of God and a loving community. The friendships and connections I have made here will continue to positively affect me as I move forward to college and beyond.”

NATALIE FIELD

Natalie Field epitomizes a Catholic High student and has done so with sophistication. Natalie is courageous in her endeavors and continuously strives to do her best. She demonstrates excellence in academics through her memberships in National Honor Society, National Spanish Honor Society, Science National Honor Society, and National English Honor Society. Natalie displays responsible leadership and consistently exhibits the values of Christian community service. In addition, she is a Student Ambassador, Peer Minister, serves as a tutor, and volunteers in her parish. She participates in Cross Country, where she was captain, and Outdoor Track and Field. Natalie is extremely perceptive and intuitive, and she is prepared to face any challenge that the future has in store.

“Attending The Catholic High School of Baltimore has allowed me to thrive in an ambitious academic environment, grounded in Catholic faith. I have grown, not only as a student, but as a Christian.”

OLIVIA RUSSELL

A consummate performer, Olivia Russell is as excellent on stage singing and dancing as she is leading a school-wide assembly, presiding over the Tri-M Music Honor Society, and troubleshooting technology problems. Olivia juggles excellent academics with leadership and service, and deftly handles all matters with as much grace as she does when handling the singers in “her” section of all four choirs. Chosen as a Pinkard Scholar, Olivia also holds memberships in the National Honor Society and the Science National Honor Society. Always Franciscan in spirit, this empowered young woman never leaves a classroom without a quiet “Thank you” and a smile. Olivia is the epitome of a Daughter of Catholic High.

“Attending The Catholic High School of Baltimore has been instrumental in my life, challenging me to continuously put 100 percent into everything I do and to work hard to achieve excellence. Even more importantly, as a member of a Catholic school, I am able to learn more about God and His Church and have many people supporting me in my journey to Him.”
